

General Counsel for the LCS™ Companies to Speak at the Consumer Finance Class Actions & Litigation Conference

Centennial, CO — July 5, 2011 — LCS™ Financial Services Corporation (LCS Financial), a leader in post-charge off recoveries for auto, student loan and mortgage lenders, announced today that Jennifer Cohen, General Counsel for the LCS companies, will be speaking on a panel presentation at the Consumer Finance Class Actions & Litigation Conference. The panel presentation is titled, "Identifying and Avoiding Trouble Spots in Debt Collection, Credit Reporting, and Defending Against FDCPA, TCPA, FACTA and FCRA Claims." The conference will be held at the Sutton Place Hotel in Chicago, IL between July 27-28, 2011.

"It is extremely valuable to bring together experts from the industry including in-house attorneys and private practitioners to discuss recent cases and current laws that impact creditors, consumers and collection agencies alike," said Ms. Cohen.

As General Counsel, Ms. Cohen manages all regulatory and compliance affairs for LCS Receivables Management and its affiliated companies which include LCS Financial, a nationwide debt collection company. Other affiliates of LCS Receivables Management specialize in the businesses of loan servicing, collection litigation and debt acquisition and sales.

"We are extremely proud that Jenni will be representing LCS Financial and the LCS companies on this panel. She has extensive knowledge about debt collection law and will no doubt add substance to the discussion," said Leo C. Stawiarski, Jr., President and CEO at LCS Financial Services and the LCS companies.

LCS Financial will continue to participate in events, seminars and conferences that are compliance-focused and support our vision of revolutionizing recoveries™.
